

RE:

Von: kevin galalae (kgalalae@hotmail.com)
Gesendet: Mittwoch, 2. Dezember 2009 14:59:01
An: cml37@leicester.ac.uk

I expected that much from you, Carla, given that your idea of freedom of speech is currently shaped by the prescriptions of the Qatari royal family.

On the issue of not continuing communication with you - gladly.

Good luck forging food security out of the dessicated sands of Qatar!

Regards,

Kevin

From: cml37@leicester.ac.uk
To: kgalalae@hotmail.com
Date: Wed, 2 Dec 2009 05:47:13 +0000
Subject: RE: RE:

Dear Kevin,

I have read your letter and I do not agree with you. And no sorry I do not work for the university.

As before, best wishes and I'll thank you in advance for not continuing this with me further.

Carla

From: kevin galalae [kgalalae@hotmail.com]
Sent: 02 December 2009 07:49
To: cml37@leicester.ac.uk
Subject: RE:

Dear Carla,

My decision to post my letter to Dr. Rofo on the forum was not intended to involve any of my fellow students in my dispute with Nick and Dr. Rofo. It was meant to help other students should they find themselves in a similar situation. I believe I explained myself very clearly in this respect in the opening paragraphs. After all, I have nothing to gain by making my letter public.

As for putting my intellect to positive use, I could not think of a worthier cause than free speech and the pursuit of truth. After all, what could be more important than safeguarding the integrity of the education system? Surely, you would agree that the evidence I put forth (should you have read my letter in its entirety) indisputably shows that Nick and Dr. Rofo are running a politically biased programme and have treated me unfairly.

Having said this, rest assured that you will no longer have to contend with any posts from me since Dr. Rofo has made sure to cut me off from the course website.

On a different note, I could not help but notice that your participation in the course is consistent with the profile of a debate facilitator. Are you working for the university? If so, please abstain from giving me advice. If not, I would like to hear a more balanced assessment of the case I have presented in my letter.

Regards,

Kevin Galalae

From: cml37@leicester.ac.uk
To: kgalalae@hotmail.com; alialmathkoor@gmail.com; sean.lawrence2@gmail.com; livarabar@yahoo.com; ekim.bireroglu@justice.gsi.gov.uk; pawel.wojtas@ntlworld.com; cml37@leicester.ac.uk
Date: Tue, 1 Dec 2009 08:09:34 +0000
Subject: RE:

Dear Kevin,

I do not wish to get involved except to say with all due respect the best thing you could possibly do is knuckle down and complete the final essay in the allotted time and word limit. I don't think anyone is questioning your intellect and your contributions to the forums (with the exception of yesterday's post) cannot be denied as valuable. If you do not wish to continue the course please make this personal decision and use the available channels to address any issues you have with the University. I hope you will take this in the manner with which I intend it, but I don't feel it is appropriate you involve the rest of the forum in this dispute, even though you believe it right to do so I would argue it is not.

All the best and I really hope you will put your very strong intellect to positive use.

Kindest regards, Carla

From: kevin galalae [kgalalae@hotmail.com]
Sent: 01 December 2009 06:25
To: alialmathkoor@gmail.com; Sean Lawrence; livarabar@yahoo.com; ekim.bireroglu@justice.gsi.gov.uk; pawel.wojtas@ntlworld.com; cml37@leicester.ac.uk
Subject:

Dear fellow students,

In case you wonder what has happened to me - and should you run into trouble with Leicester in matters of academic freedom and censorship - I thought my case may come in handy as a reference. I have therefore attached my reply to Dr. Rofo, which I posted on the forum for week 10, but which I have a feeling was immediately removed by Nick and Dr. Rofo. Should you have the time to read it and let me know what you think, I would love to hear from you. Otherwise, it was a pleasure meeting you virtually and thinking with you about today's big issues in IR.

I wish you all success in your studies.

Warm regards,

Kevin Galalae

P.S. I do not have Sheldon and Lory's email addresses. Should any of you know them, I would appreciate it if you forwarded this email to them on my behalf.